FAMILY NOTES

Marriage (9 February 1870): bondsman was Dulcinea's brother, Enoch White
Witnesses: John W. White, Enoch White

Family Group Sheet

26 March 2013

Marriage certificate lists this as Dullie's first marriage. This contradicts information save in Ancestral File which says this was her third marriage, the first two being to James Wolford and Robert Willis. I've kept the single marriage since the marriage certificate is a more reliable record.

The marriage register has the witnesses listed as Jas. E. Spenbcer, James Walls, "and others"

FATHER NOTES: Thomas Jefferson Turley II-184

Death (28 October 1883): Karen Garland has death date as 29 October

General: Lived in Gallatin County until 1880 but moved to Mt. Sterling shortly before his death.

MOTHER NOTES: Dulcinea White-185

Birth (13 March 1850): Cemetery transcrption has birth date as 03-13-1840. I am uncertain about this birth place. She was living four months later in Grant County and was also there in 1860. I'm also uncertain about the date. The most contemporaneous record we have of her birth is the 1850 census. The census is dated 21 Sep 1850 and her age is given as 1/12. That would seem to indicate a birth date in August or perhaps July at the earliest.

Census (1 July 1870): Age 18, living with Thomas Turley.

General: Records from Leonard Johnson Turley list death date as 22 Feb 1878. So does Beth Mitchell who lists Cemetary records as a source. R. Steven Turley's transcription of the cemetary records lists 5 Feb 1878 as the death date.

CHILD NOTES: Thomas Jefferson Turley III-28

Rsrch. Note: There is a little confusion in the 1910 census about a child named Nonie E. Here is Robert Starling Turley, Jr.'s analysis of the same:

I think the 1910 census entry for "Nonnie E" a son born during the same month (age shown as 0/12) as the enumeration occurred (enumeration date: 18 Apr 1910) refers to Wallis Mitchell born 16 Apr 1910 (two days before the enumeration). I can't imagine where "Nonnie E" came from. Perhaps Wallis had not been named yet or the enumerator misunderstood the informant (I would guess that Grandmother Turley was not in good shape to be interviewed, who knows?).

Please notice that the 1910 census shows that our Grandmother "Nancy C" in the Census detail, as of 1910, was the mother of 8 children, 7 living. According to my information, Wallis was Nannie's 8th child. The one no longer living was Myrix Edwin Turley: b 16 Sep 1908; d 21 Jan 1909. Therefore, the census schedule detail corresponds to our records except for the 'out of nowhere' name that I believe should be Wallis. Further evidence is that the 1920 US Census shows a son, Wallis, age 9 at the enumeration date of 26 Jan 1920.

General: He also gathered information from family bible records in possession of his niece, Mrs. J.A. Day (Kathryn Webb) from Corbin.

Info from obit in Louisville Courier Journal pasted into T.J. Turley III Bible. Pioneerr farm-implement dealer. Founder of T.J.Turley Company, Inc in Owensboro. Died in home of daughter, Mrs. Felix Trader in Henderson, KY after short illness. Native of Gallitin Co., came to Owensboro in 1900 and went into implement business. Was one of first Presidents of Ownesboro Chamber of Commerce. Past President of Tri-State Implement Association and National Farm Equipment Association. Other survivors include 3 sons in Louisville, Leonard J. Edgar, and Thomas J. Turley "Jr."

MARRIAGE: RST0005 performed by Rev. J. T. Williams, witnessed: M. J. Castleman, D. E. Castleman (brothers of spouse; spouse's father died before marriage).

The following is from "The History of Kentucky"

Thomas Jefferson Turley. Deeds are thoughts crystallized, and according to their brilliancy do we judge the worth of a man to the country which produced him, and in his works we expect to find the true index to his character. A worthy representative of that type of American business man who may properly be termed "progressive," that character which promotes public good in advancing individual prosperity and conserving popular interests, is Thomas Jefferson Turley, president of the T. J. Turley Company of Owensboro, Daviess County. He possesses to a marked degree those powers which render men efficient in the material affairs of a community, being what he is from natural endowment and self-culture, having attained his present standing solely through the impelling force of his own strong nature. In the strictest sense of the much-used term, Thomas Jefferson Turley is a self-made man. When he was six years old his mother died, when she was twentyseven years of age, leaving her husband with three children, Thomas J. and two sisters, younger than he. For his second wife the father married Emily Jones, who bore him two children, a son and a daughter, the latter now deceased, while the son, Edgar Ethlene Turley, is now associated with Mr. Turley in business. After the father's second marriage he removed from Napoleon, Gallatin County, Kentucky, to Covington, Kenton County. Thomas J. Turley had been born at Napoleon on April 4, 1871, and was but eight years of age when his father removed to Covington.

Two years later the family removed to Montgomery County, Kentucky, and to the old home of the Turley family. It was in Montgomery County that the great-grandfather of Mr. Turley, James Turley, settled, near Mount Sterling, having moved in an early day from Culpeper County, Virginia, where he was born, the son of William Turley, a native of Scotland. Thomas Jefferson Turley, the grandfather, was born in Montgomery County, and married Artie Lilliard, a daughter of Rev. David Lilliard, a pioneer Baptist minister who organized the "Ten-mile Baptist Association," in which he preached for nearly a half century without salary. In 1830 he settled in Gallatin County, where his son, also named Thomas Jefferson Turley, was born. He married, for his first wife Dullie White, also a native of Gallatin County, a daughter of J. W. and Dullie White. Her mother was twice married, and her half-brother, Capt. James T. Willis, served in the Confederate army with the brilliant and daring John Morgan.

The father of the subject of this review was a farmer and live stock raiser and dealer, in which he was only fairly successful. He died when only thirtyfive years of age, and at the age of eleven his son, whose name introduces this personal sketch, went to the home of his uncle, A. C. White, at Williamstown, Grant County. Here he obtained employment in the dry goods store of Joseph Glasscock and attended night schools to supplement the limited education already obtained. He worked for Mr. Glasscock for ten years, beginning on the modest salary of five dollars a month, and at the end of the period he was drawing a monthly salary of $150. In more ways than one Mr. Turley's beginning of his active life work was out of the ordinary. Thus we find him housekeeping at the age of fifteen years, at which age, with his grandmother in charge, he established a home, and with him his sister, whom he reared and educated. When he was twenty years of age he and Mr. Glasscock, who had been his employer, formed a copartnership and opened a store of general merchandise at Owenton, Owen County, Kentucky. This was continued for three years, or until Mr. Glasscock sold his interest to his two brothers-in-law, who had previously been in the drug business and whose experience Mr. Turley soon saw was not promising in general merchandising; so to them he sold his interest and in 1895 removed to the City of Louisville. In that city he began his connection with the implement business, in which he has since become such a prominent figure, becoming a road salesman for the Deering people. He began on a small salary, but "made good" to such a degree that two years later he was promoted to a general agency and given charge of the territory embracing Kentucky and Southern Indiana. In 1900 he resigned that position because of ill health and soon afterward came to Owensboro, where he entered into partnership with the late H. B. Phillips in the implement business. This relationship existed for four years, or until the death of Mr. Phillips, and in 1905 the T. J. Turley Company was incorporated, with Mr. Turley as president, R. J. Flarity, vice president, and J. D. Hayes, secretary-treasurer, the three, together with T. J. Turley, Jr.; constituting the board of directors. This corporation, which is engaged in the implement, hardware, field seeds and kindred lines, has enjoyed a constantly increasing volume of business, growing from $25,000 the first year to $500,000, the corporation, which occupies nearly three acres of floor space, doing a larger business in its special line than any similar company south of the Ohio River. The building up of this extensive business has been mainly due to the business ability and efforts of Mr. Turley, who through all its history has remained at the head of the company. In addition to his mercantile interests he is also the owner of 600 acres of excellent farm land in Daviess County.

In 1892 Mr. Turley was married to Nannie C. Castleman, who was born and reared in Gallatin County, Kentucky, the daughter of Clay Castleman, a distant relative of Gen. J. B. Castleman. She is also a granddaughter of Myrex Williams, a pioneer who lived and died in Gallatin County, being nearly 100 years of age at the time of his death. To Mr. and Mrs. Turley have been born eleven children, one of whom is deceased. Their three eldest sons served in the defense of liberty's cause during the World war. Leonard J. served in the field artillery at Camp Taylor and became a sergeant. Thomas Jefferson, Jr., served in the navy one year. Castleman J. went overseas and served as a sergeant with the Fifteenth Machine Gun Company, Fifth Division, taking part in the Argonne drive. Of the 170 original members of his company all save seven were killed or wounded, he being one of the fortunate seven who returned to their homeland. After the signing of the armistice, his term of enlistment having expired, he re-enlisted for the term of an additional year. These three sons and a fourth, Paul D., are graduates of the Kentucky Military School, and a fifth son, Robert S., has had three years in that institution. Mr. Turley has not only been an ardent supporter of general education, but has been very favorably inclined towards military schools. The following are the other children of Mr. and Mrs. Turley: Fred C., Wallace M., Nancie Louise, Edgar Watkins and Richard Allen. Myrex Edwin was the name of their deceased child.

Mr. and Mrs. Turley are members of the Christian Church, in which faith their children have been reared. Fraternally Mr. Turley is a member of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, in which he has attained to the degrees of Knight Templar, being a past eminent commander of Owensboro Commandery. He is also a member of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. For several years he has been an active member of implement dealers associations and has served as president of the association for the states of Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana; has been a delegate to the National Confederation of Implement Dealers, of which he was elected a director, and two years ago he was honored by being elected its president. Locally he has been president of the Commercial Club and has always given his earnest support to every legitimate movement for the upbuilding of Owensboro and Daviess County. Strongly in contrast with the humble surroundings of his youth is the brilliant position which he today fills in business circles. He early realized that there is a purpose in life and that there is no honor not founded on worth and no respect not founded on accomplishment. He possesses those sterling traits which have commanded uniform confidence and regard, and he is today honored throughout the community in which he lives.
