

I, L. J. Stirrsman being of sound mind and memory do make, publish, and declare this to be my last will and testament to wit:-

First I direct, that all my just and legal debts be first fully paid,

Second, I bequeath unto my beloved wife Ellen Stirrsman all of my real estate, to sell, transfer, or keep as she sees proper to do, and in the event said real estate is still owned by my said wife, Ellen Stirrsman at her death, then said property is to be equally divided between my children, and minor children.

Third, I give and devise unto my said wife Ellen Stirrsman all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, she to divide using her judgment with my children, including minor children, and I direct that said property be sold & proceeds divided between her and said children.

Fourth, I nominate and appoint my said wife Ellen Stirrsman to be executor without bond of this my last will and testament.

Signed this 21 day of Feb. 1923.

L. J. Stirrsman X his mark
